

Los Angeles

WORKSHEET A

Exercise 1

Below are ten pieces of information about the city of Los Angeles that have been split into three parts and mixed up. Can you put them back together again?

1	Los Angeles, or L.A. for short, is the second	'Hollywood' sign in the Hollywood Hills.	the American film industry.
2	Hollywood, a district of Los Angeles, is of course	produced many famous films, although now some of the most important studios are in	(football, or 'soccer' as people call it in the United States).
3	The city is home to people from all	southern Europe, with sunshine on more than 250 days	other places in California.
4	One of the most important parts of the Los Angeles economy is the entertainment	largest city in the United States, after New York, and the	but in 1900 the population was less than a million.
5	The film studios of Hollywood have	the English player David Beckham, went to play	per year and less rain than many other parts of the United States.
6	Los Angeles has important sports teams such as the	famous because of	speak more than 200 different languages.
7	One of the most famous footballers in the world,	industry, which includes the production of	largest in the state of California.
8	The climate of Los Angeles is similar to that of the countries around the Mediterranean sea in	twentieth century. Around 13 million people now live in the Los Angeles region,	films, TV programmes and video games.
9	One of the most famous landmarks in Los Angeles is the huge	Los Angeles Dodgers (baseball), the Los Angeles Lakers (basketball) and Los Angeles Galaxy	The sign is made from white letters, each about fifteen metres high.
10	The city grew very quickly during the	over the world, who together	for Los Angeles Galaxy in 2007.

Los Angeles

Exercise 2

The pieces of information have been put back together again, but now each one contains two mistakes. Find and correct the mistakes.

1. Los Angeles, or L.A. short, is the second larger city in the United States, after New York, and the largest in the state of California.
2. Hollywood, a distrupt of Los Angeles, is of course famous because of the American film dustry.
3. The city is home to people from all on the world, who together say more than 200 different languages.
4. One of the most important parts of the Los Angeles economy is the entertain industry, which includes the production of films, TV programmes and video sports.
5. The film studios of Hollywood have produce many famous films, although now some of the most important studios are in other place in California.
6. Los Angeles has important sports teams such the Los Angeles Dodgers (baseball), the Los Angeles Lakers (basketball) and Los Angeles Galaxy (football, or 'soccer' as people call them in the United States).
7. One of most famous footballs in the world, the English player David Beckham, went to play for Los Angeles Galaxy in 2007.
8. The clima of Los Angeles is similar to that of the countries around the Mediterranean sea in southern Europe, with shine on more than 250 days per year and less rain than many other parts of the United States.
9. One of the most famous marks in Los Angeles is the hug 'Hollywood' sign in the Hollywood Hills. The sign is made from white letters, each about fifteen metres high.
10. The city has grown very quickly during the twentieth century. Around 13 million people now live in the Los Angeles region, but in 1900 the population was less a million.

---

Los Angeles

1. Los Angeles, or L.A. for short, is the second largest city in the United States, after New York, and the largest in the state of California.
2. Hollywood, a district of Los Angeles, is of course famous because of the American film industry.
3. The city is home to people from all over the world, who together speak more than 200 different languages.
4. One of the most important parts of the Los Angeles economy is the entertainment industry, which includes the production of films, TV programmes and video games.
5. The film studios of Hollywood have produced many famous films, although now some of the most important studios are in other places in California.
6. Los Angeles has important sports teams such as the Los Angeles Dodgers (baseball), the Los Angeles Lakers (basketball) and Los Angeles Galaxy (football, or 'soccer' as people call it in the United States).
7. One of the most famous footballers in the world, the English player David Beckham, went to play for Los Angeles Galaxy in 2007.
8. The climate of Los Angeles is similar to that of the countries around the Mediterranean sea in southern Europe, with sunshine on more than 250 days per year and less rain than many other parts of the United States.
9. One of the most famous landmarks in Los Angeles is the huge 'Hollywood' sign in the Hollywood Hills. The sign is made from white letters, each about fifteen metres high.
10. The city grew very quickly during the twentieth century. Around 13 million people now live in the Los Angeles region, but in 1900 the population was less than a million.